DR. BANCROFT DEAD

Principal of Phillips Academy Passes Away This Afternoon.

It is with a great deal of sorrow that the Townsmen chronicles the sad fact that the condition of Principal Bancroft of Phillips academy is extremely critical, so critical that, as this paper goes to press, the news of his death is expected momentarily. His physicians feared that he would not live through last night, and altho' he did so they could a matter of a few hours before he passes

MAYORS' CLUB OUTING.

The outing of the Massachusetts Mayors' club at Pittsfield last Friday was a most enjoyable event. There were 28 cities represented, including Lawrence, Ex-Mayor A. E. Mack being the local delegate.

The visitors were hospitably entertained by Mayor Russell of Pittsfield. A coaching trip being one of the pleasantest features. In the evening a banquet was enjoyed at the Wendell Hotel, at which the Pittsfield Journal says: "The banquet of the mayors at the Wendell Friday evening was an occasion of hearty enjoyment for every one present. The problems of municipal government were for the most part cast aside and the evening was given over to feasting, informal addresses and the telling of stories."

There were addresses by Governor Crane, Mayor Hart of Boston, Mayor Hurley of Salem, and several others. A set of resolutions on the death of James H. Eaton of this city, a former member of the club were adopted.

The itinerary of the coaching trip afforded glimpses of the Country Club house built in 1781, the former Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Sr. Mountain, the Kemble church, Bald Head, Lake Mahkeenac, Monument Mountain, Ambassador Choate's residence, the old Indian burial place, the old Lake and many other beautiful private residences. A fine lunch was served at the residence of George Washington Erskine park.

FELL INTO CESSPOOL.

The three-year-old son of Thomas Booth of 43 Parker street experienced a narrow escape from drowning Saturday while playing with companions. The boy was playing near a cesspool at the corner of Parker and Springfield street, and was looking into the opening when he lost his balance and fell in.

The cries of his companions attracted the attention of a neighbor, who pulled out of the cesspool with great difficulty. The lad was in a serious condition when taken out, and it was with some difficulty that he was resuscitated.

GOES INTO THE FIRM.

The firm of Brown & Ackroyd, manufacturers at 556 Common street Tuesday became Brown & Whittier, Simeon Ackroyd withdrawing by mutual consent of the partners. The plant will continue to manufacture dress goods and men's wear.

The new member of the firm is Claude M. Whittier, who has been superintendent since the firm was established 10 years ago. He is an experienced mill man and Mr. Brown is a most competent manager, to whom the business is due.

At present 120 persons are employed at the plant which is running until 10 o'clock at night and has been for some time past. Mr. Brown resides in Prospect street, Methuen, while Mr. Whittier resides at 387 Broadway.

Mr. Ackroyd removed with his family to Malden last Saturday. Mr. Whittier, the new member of the firm, was born in Haverhill, but has lived in this city practically all his life. He entered the Pacific mills while in his teens and remained in the employ of that corporation for 10 years. Leaving here he accepted a position with the Davis and Furber company of North Andover, where he remained about two and one-half years. He was with the Washington mills company for another year before he went to the Brown & Ackroyd company upon its formation.

A LAWRENCE MAN.

It is probable that Jeremiah J. Driscoll of this city was among those slain by the Filipinos at Bases in southern Samar, Philippines. Jeremiah J. Driscoll enlisted in the Ninth regiment from this city and was known to have been in company C of that regiment, the company which was almost completely wiped out by the treacherous Filipinos. His folks reside at 250 Salem street and they have of course heard no tidings as even the government is as yet in the dark as to the full extent of the disaster. There is of course a small chance that he may have escaped with the other survivors, or he may be a prisoner in the hands of the enemy.

A roster of Company C shows that Driscoll was the only Lawrence man in the command.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The following resolutions were presented by Mayor Leonard and were adopted at the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Mayors' club, held in Pittsfield Friday evening:

IN MEMORIAM.
"James H. Eaton, member of the Massachusetts Mayors' club, died at Lawrence March 22, 1901. His cheerful disposition, frank and kindly manner endeared him to all who were personally acquainted with him and his liberal and honest expressions commanded the respect of all with whom he came in contact."

Resolved: That while bowing to the inscrutable will of Divine Providence, we desire to express our heartfelt sorrow and sincere regret at the sad and unexpected end of our late associate.

Resolved: That in his death the Massachusetts Mayors' club has lost one of its brightest members and the City of Lawrence an upright and respected citizen."

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES F. LEONARD.

RECOUNT WITH NO CHANGE.

No change resulted from the recount of the ballots cast for delegates to the state convention from ward three which was held at the Democratic city committee headquarters Saturday night.

The recount was held on petition of Edward Callahan. The recount of the ballots for delegates for Cloutier and Stanley in wards one, two, four, five and six, was in progress at midnight when the count was stopped on account of the Sabbath. In ward one Halley gained one vote.

The recounts in wards two, four, five and six was continued Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

W. E. RICE CO. SOLD.

At a private sale Monday Henry Tongue of Lawrence purchased the business of the W. E. Rice company from the assignees.

Polo League.

A brand new polo league was formed in Boston Sunday, the best cities in this section being represented, the result being the organization of a first-class six club league with Lawrence as the centre. The remaining cities are Salem, Portland, Lewiston, Manchester and Plymouth. All the members of the "old guard"—Parsons, Doe and Cotter—getting together to make this result possible and clinching things by placing Messrs. Murrane and Morse, the well known Boston sporting writers at the head of the enterprise as president and secretary, respectively.

It required considerable diplomacy to bring about the result as a few of last year's southeastern league magnates were hostile to the new movement and were doing considerable wire pulling to include the two strong Maine cities in their fold.

The rival organization attempted to co-opt some of the new league wouldn't stand for some of the "water tank" towns which the southeastern men wanted to saddle onto the league and the result was that Brockton and Clinton fell by the wayside.

The only hitch in the arrangement grew out of the Portland situation. In the event of a tie between the two teams, a man and a credit to any enterprise. The league however insisted on a fair deal for Mr. Rounds the former franchise holder, and the result was amicably adjusted between the two applicants. Mr. Rounds settling in favor of Mr. Matthias.

With this matter satisfactorily disposed of it was easy sailing to complete all necessary arrangements as the magnates showed a disposition to take a point at all stages to promote harmony.

Lawrence, Salem and Plymouth will be under the same management as last year. Tom Cotter was named the Manchester franchise while the great and only Fred Doe who has made the game a big success in Maine will pilot Lewiston. A grand good polo town when in the right company. Portland as heretofore mentioned will be owned by Mr. Matthias who has shown himself capable and energetic. The player question was the least of the league's troubles, as with only one major organization in the field, the New England vote was not to be accepted.

Get the Most

Out of Your Food

You don't and can't if your stomach is weak. A weak stomach does not digest all that is ordinarily taken into it. It gets tired easily, and what it fails to digest is wasted.

Among the signs of a weak stomach are uneasiness after eating, fits of nervous headache, and disagreeable belching.

"I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla at different times for stomach troubles, and a run down condition of the system, and have been greatly benefited by its use. I would not be without it in my family. I am troubled especially in summer with weak stomach and nausea and find Hood's Sarsaparilla invaluable." E. B. HICKMAN, W. Chester, Pa.

THE OLD FLAG.

Off with your hat as the flag goes by
And let the heart have its say.
You're man enough for a tear in your eye
That you will not wipe away.

You're man enough for a thrill that goes
To your very finger tips.
Aye, the lump just then in your throat
That rose
Lift up the boy on your shoulder, high,
And show him the faded shred.

Those stripes would be red as the sunset sky
If death could have dyed them red.
The man that bore it with death has lain
This thirty years and more.

He died that the work should not be vain
Of the men who bore it before.
The man that bears it is bent and old,
And ragged his beard and gray.

But look at his eye, fire, young and bold,
At the tune that he hears them play.
The old tune thunders through all the air
And strikes right into the heart.

If ever it calls for you, boy, be there—
Be there and ready to start.
Off with your hat as the flag goes by,
Uncover the youngest head.

Teach him to hold it holy and high,
For the sake of its sacred dead.

Winter thunder is considered throughout Europe to be of very ill omen. But April thunder is considered to be very beneficial. In Devonshire and other older counties of England there is a saying that "when it thunders in April you must clean up the barrels"—in readiness, that is, for a plentiful crop of apples. The French consider April thunder to be indicative of a good yield from their vineyards and cornfields.

The wine crisis in Portugal becomes more and more serious. The quantity of wine now stored in cellars is estimated at more than 132,000,000 gallons which leaves no room for the storage of this year's exceptionally large harvest. Some producers are asking the government to favor the exportation of a part of the enormous stock and to interdict, temporarily, the entry of the cereal alcohols from the Azores.

There is a curious combination tree in West Stockbridge, Mass. It is primarily a maple, which measures a foot from the ground, 12 feet 3 inches in circumference. The famous leaning tower of Pisa has a rival in the Temple tower of Bristol, in England. It is a square tower of early Gothic architecture. For every man, woman and child in this country there is an average of two farm animals. A long list could be given of explosives and varieties of gunpowder that have been used in the past. In some the sawdust is used as an absorbent, as with nitroglycerine, in others as a filler, while in still others it is converted into forms of pyroxyline. By heating sawdust with caustic alkali and sulphur a brown dye is obtained which is cheap and fast, resisting both acids and alkalis, and dyeing cotton without a mordant. By heating sawdust with caustic alkali, oxalic acid is formed. A large amount of the oxalic acid on the market is made by this process.

It is not lawful for a Moslem to pray on any place not perfectly clean, and unless each one has his own special rug he is not certain that the spot has not been polluted. It does not matter to these followers of Mahomet how unclean a rug that is on the floor may be, because over it they place the prayer rug when their devotions begin.

Artistic mounts have now been devised to set off the solid bead knitting of some circular purse bags hanging from the waist. Inclosed in prettily padded satin cases, these sparkling purses are exhibited at jewellers' windows as suitable for weddings and birthdays.

As to the latest whim in Dorothy bags the frilled beading is no longer faced with the contrasting lining, but is rendered more voluminous and more fussy by a trifling innovation. Both the lining and outside material form a deep hem of their own, and thus produce two independent frills above the drawn strings. These handy bags for the beach, lawn and river are made of cool and light linen, interwoven with silk. Being then unlined they are smartened up toward the base with an insertion of coarse Greek lace, with its beautiful design well thrown off by a band of gay satin.

The Andover Guild.

The report of the Guild, as shown in the condensed statement published elsewhere, contains a few very significant words which should be brought to public notice more prominently than they are in the statement referred to.

"The treasurer also reported that the subscriptions for the support of the general work of the guild during the year amounted to $215; and that a tendency to falling off in the subscriptions had been showing itself for some years."

This is not good reading for the friends of this important factor in Andover life. It reads too much like the usual story of a lessening interest in all things charitable and religious, to please the hundreds of citizens who have watched the Guild grow from a small beginning to its present commanding position as the central force in Andover for the promotion and advancement of many forms of social improvement.

It has not been easy for the Guild to reach this position. Many citizens were not in sympathy with its aims when it was established, and an interest in its work was not easily aroused. But the growth in public favor has been constant and gratifying from the outset, if there is left out of consideration the particular phase which is now disturbing the directors, and the work has expanded and developed to a remarkable degree. The work has always been handicapped by lack of funds and now comes the statement that there is a tendency toward a "falling off" from what was already too little for the organization's complete work.

The public should arouse itself to keep this work up to its present important place. A score or more of the town's most earnest men and women are giving of their personal time and strength to keep the different branches of the work in active operation, and many more are already liberal supporters through their money. But the work demands larger interest among workers, and vastly larger gifts of money from hundreds who have never yet been interested, if it is to continue to go on and do all that is clearly set for it to do in our town.

The forthcoming report and appeal of the Guild directors will be given a wide circulation, and we cannot urge too strongly that it merits an equally wide response. A thousand gifts of a dollar each, with the personal interest behind each one, means a great deal more than a hundred gifts of ten dollars each. The Andover Guild is eminently worthy of most generous support.

Editorial Cinders.

It was predicted after the Republic can caucuses that Andover would be quite a factor in the senatorial contest, but as Mr. Frost had one more pledged vote than the number required to nominate, without Andover, there seemed to be nothing to do, but to fall in line with the majority. That this was done gracefully and cordially is to the credit of the gentlemen who made up the Andover delegation.

The next direction for street railway building seems definitely settled to be along Elm street directly to the old North church at North Andover centre. The general impression is that much of the opposition on the part of the Andover street residents in North Andover has passed away, and that the rights in that street will be granted.

It looks very much as if another winter was to set in without proper connection being made with the sewer by citizens. It would not be pleasant for the Board of Health to compel every abuttor to enter the sewer but that will have to be done if the delay continues much longer.

The harmony that pervaded the county convention does not seem to have reached out to the other political gatherings. At the senatorial and councillor conventions the contest was warm and bitter, and the latter is not yet over. A good contest is wholesome, but a real fight never brings good to the party.

EXTENSION OF LIMIT ON WHITE MOUNTAIN EXCURSIONS.—Owing to the continuous favorable weather in the White Mountains, and the intense popularity of the White Mountain Excursions, they will be extended so that tickets will be good for going passage until October 10th, and for return not after October 12th, but tickets reading between Bethlehem Junction and Profile House and Profile House and North Woodstock will not be good after September 28th. This extension applies to all stations except those of the Fitchburg and Connecticut & Passumpsic Divisions of B. & M. R. R.

PRETTY OPERETTA

Children of West Church Sunday School Presented "Cinderella in Flowerland"

"Cinderella in Flowerland," was the title of a pretty little operetta, patterned after the other Cinderella story, which the children of the West church Sunday school so successfully presented at the Grange hall, West Parish, last Friday evening.

The hall was filled with the parents and friends of the participants who enjoyed every moment of the bright little operetta and its catchy music. Fetching costumes, bright faces and a pretty stage setting representing a wood scene were other adjuncts which contributed to its success.

The operetta opened with a song by a little fairy, impersonated by Helen Dodson; then the curtain rose and a trumpet was sounded as Robin Red, the Princess' Herald, in the person of cute little Annie Gillen, tripped across the stage, summoned the flowers and read them the proclamation inviting them to the Princess' ball. Then the operetta moved along smoothly through the scenes where the modest little Daisy, (Marion Abbott) was sent to the ball by the beautiful Godmother, Nature (Agnes Gillen), at which she outshone all the others, but oversteering her time, was forced to flee and lost a slipper in her haste. Her troubles and the final happy ending to the story were carried smoothly along to the final curtain.

The parts of those previously mentioned and of Prince Sunshine, (Lillian Pike), and Bonnie Bee, little page, (Stanwood Morrill), were especially well filled. Cinderella's songs were prettily rendered also; the youthful singer was apparently bothered by a cold. The little Raindrops and Sunbeams, very small tots, were cunning enough. A great deal of credit is due to the committee in charge of the operetta for their unsparing efforts in preparing costumes and rehearsing the children who were well high perfect. The committee consisted of Misses Kate Pike, Bessie Dodson, Edith Abbott, Elizabeth and Mary Smith.

Between the scenes, piano and violin trios, were rendered by the Misses H. L. and Addie Wingate and Thomas Wingate of Lawrence.

Sale Successful.

At the South church lawn last Friday afternoon, the Christian Endeavor society held a sale of potted plants, candy, chocolate and jelly, to raise funds for flowers to adorn the church during the winter. The sum of $21 was raised by the efforts of the young people who appeared well satisfied with the results of their work.

The committee who had the sale in charge consisted of Miss Edith Hunter, chairman, Miss Edith Valpey, Miss Alice McTernan, Miss Grace Morse, George Lawson and Chester Farmer.

Scattered over the beautiful lawn at the church were the various tables, over which, from three o'clock until six, presided the young ladies. At the potted plants table were Misses Edith Hunter, Edith Valpey and Grace Morse. In charge of the home made candy table were Misses Grace Cheever, Marion Chamberlain and Rena Hemenway. Misses Alice McTernan and Dorothy Logan poured chocolate, while Misses Ethel Hemenway and Minnie Barton dispensed tempting looking jars of jelly.

The young gentlemen of the society made themselves useful in various ways.

A Narrow Escape.

Charles A. Morse, the popular driver for B. B. Tuttle, the expressman, had a very narrow escape from serious injury if not from death Tuesday afternoon. He was unloading an express wagon of furniture into the third story of Alfred Kaiser's furniture store and the team was backed up in the alley. Mr. Morse was on the wagon while Mr. Kaiser and helpers were hauling up the crates by means of a block and tackle from below. When one very heavy crate was nearly up to the opening where it could be swung in and stored away, the hook holding it slipped out and altho' Mr. Kaiser endeavored to hold it, the weight was too much and the heavy article fell. A cry to "look out" was sent to Mr. Morse but it came too late. He was struck by the flat side of the crate on the head, and knocked down on the wagon, from which he rolled to the ground. When he was reached by aid he was found to be somewhat stunned but otherwise suffered no injury except a slight cut on his chin.

Obituary.

ROBERT CUTHILL.

The death of Robert Cuthill of Abbott Village, occurred at his late home, Friday morning after an illness of two months. He was seventy-two years and eight months old.

The deceased was born in Arbroath, Scotland, and there he followed the trade of shoemaker, as he did after he came to this country four years ago. He leaves four daughters, three in Andover and one in Scotland, and two sons both in Scotland. Mr. Cuthill was of a genial disposition, quiet and well liked by all who knew him.

The funeral was held from his late home Sunday at 3 p. m. The Burns club attended in a body. Music was rendered by a quartet of ladies from the South church, who sang "Lead Kindly Light," and by the Raymond Male quartet, which sang "Nearer My God to Thee." Rev. F. R. Shipman officiated. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

WILLIAM KELLEY.

On Tuesday, the death of William Kelley occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. David McIntosh of Mineral street, near the railroad bridge. The deceased, who was eighty-two years of age, was an English Army veteran, also a veteran of the Civil war. Had he been younger, he would also have fought in the Spanish war.

The funeral was held from St. Augustine's church yesterday morning at nine o'clock. Burial was in the Catholic cemetery.

The Guild.

The Directors of the Andover Guild held their first meeting for the new year of work at the Guild house last Tuesday evening. The work of the committees was reviewed, and plans matured for the opening season.

The Treasurer reported that the gross expense of the Summer school had been $346.30. Towards this there had been received from fees and a sale $33.10, making the net cost to the Guild $313.20. Last year, with a much larger school, the expense was about $340. The Treasurer also reported that the subscriptions for the support of the general work of the Guild during the year amounted to $215; and that a tendency to falling off in the subscriptions had been showing itself for some years.

The people of Andover are apparently hardly aware of the extent and usefulness of the work for the town accomplished by the Guild, and of the necessity, if this is to continue, of increased subscriptions for the Guild's support. A committee was appointed to prepare a report of the work of the Guild, to be printed in general circulation.

The Directors acknowledged the receipt of $62.50 as a contribution from the November club for work for the ensuing year among girls. They took steps for the appointment of a Matron to preside at the girls' club and the evening classes at the Guild house, and also for the appointment of a janitor to succeed the late Robert Cuthill.

The case committee reported that three cases of sickness had been aided, one attendant having been provided for six weeks at the Guild's expense. Four calls for nurses had been received, which could not be filled. Clothing had been furnished to six families. The emergency closet had been of much use to the physicians of the town and others, and its crutches and wheel chair had been sent out several times on loan. It was voted that a clothing sale be held later in the season; and plans were made for the cooking class, the kitchen garden, the sewing school, the dolls class, and the girls' club.

The annual meeting of the Guild for the choice of officers for the ensuing year, will be held in the Guild house, Tuesday, Oct. 8, at 8 o'clock. All members of the society, and all persons interested, are invited to be present.

MINUTES

The Directors of the Andover Guild wish to place on record their appreciation of the services of the late Robert Cuthill, who was at the time of his death Janitor of the Guild House. They feel they have lost in him one who was faithful and trustworthy, who was devoted to the interests of the Guild, and who never spared his time or efforts in its service. They desire to extend their sympathy to the members of his family.

The Directors of the Andover Guild in accepting the resignation of George E. Johnson, do so with much regret that they are to be deprived of his valuable aid. Mr. Johnson's knowledge of the problems connected with the training of the young, his unsparing devotion to their welfare, his welcome to calls to labor in their behalf as prized opportunities, his modesty, tact, and reserve in cooperation with other workers, made him a most useful and companionable member of the Board of Directors; and they regretfully and gratefully bid him farewell and godspeed.

Third Race On.

The Shamrock II and Columbia are fighting out the third race for the American cup. The course is fifteen miles to leeward and beat back. The wind is very fresh; and about a 16-knot breeze.

At the start the Columbia crossed the line a few seconds ahead of the Shamrock and gained slightly for a while. Then the challenger began to close up the distance and finally drew ahead of the Columbia.

At 12.45 the Shamrock rounded the stake boat and commenced to beat home. Fifty seconds later the Columbia made the turn and began to tack. The Shamrock had gained about a minute.

Barring accidents the Columbia will win as she has only seven seconds, corrected time, to overcome to defeat her rival.

Call at Farr's Remnant Store, Lawrence, before purchasing your fall dress-goods.

Ten Cents to Reading Depot.

The Townsman is advised by Col. Woodward, president of the Reading railway, that as soon as the transfers can be arranged, and surely within a fortnight, a ten cent fare will carry a traveller from Andover square to the B. & M. railroad station in Reading. This will be accomplished by a free transfer in Reading square, and will be greatly appreciated by the many Andover people who make the Boston trip by a combined use of electric and steam cars.

The Rifle Range.

Superintendent Kingston of Lawrence, has 40 men at work upon the new rifle range in Frye Village, being constructed for the city of Lawrence, and says when it is finished that it will be the best in the state. The large pit, 40x8x8 feet in dimensions, has been dug and the sides and bottom are being cemented. There is a great deal of excavating to be done, but the superintendent hopes to have the 200-yard range completed inside of two weeks. As for the 500 and 600-yard ranges, Superintendent Kingston says that there will not be time to build them this season, but this will probably be done in the early spring.

GOLD FOUND

Story That Local Man Found Some on His Farm in Circulation.

Last evening's Lawrence Telegram published a story in relation to an alleged discovery of quartz with evidences of gold therein, which had been found on a farm on the outskirts of Andover by a local business man whose relatives own the property. The man in question calls the whole thing a fake, but it is said that he has been making an investigation and has shown specimens of what have the appearance of being gold bearing quartz.

The story from the Telegram is given below, and may be taken for what it is worth:

Andover has long been famed for her schools, but a discovery made by one of her best known citizens bids fair to make the town noted for its gold mines.

This fortunate gentleman, who is interested in a farm in the Scotland district, was seen on the street this morning carrying a piece of gold, his face wreathed with smiles and an air of mystery about his manner. When he reached his place of business in Andover square he called in a few of his intimate friends and showed them a beautiful specimen of quartz, containing gold, which he claimed he dug up out of his farm. He, of course, refused to give further details as to where the precious metal was discovered.

Congratulations were in order and the story soon spread over the town. Speculation is rife as to the exact location of the mine and as to when the work of operating it is to begin.

It may be that a new El Dorado has been discovered where it was least expected. Developments are awaited with much interest by citizens of the town.

Annual Meeting of Cricket Club.

The largest and most harmonious annual meeting of the cricket club ever held occurred at the Village hall Tuesday evening. It was evident that the club has a most successful season ahead of it next year, one in which the interest in sports will be broadened and strengthened with cricket, however, as the principal object, as heretofore.

Officers were elected the other evening as follows: President, George A. Christie; vice-pres., Hugh Kydd; sec'y, Walter S. Rhodes; treas., Alexander Ritchie; exec. com., the officers and chairmen of the various sub-committees; property com., J. B. Callum, W. MacDermitt, G. W. MacDonald; tennis com., E. V. N. Hitchcock, A. T. Dundas, John Ryley; auditing com., Charles MacDermitt, A. T. Dundas.

The election of a match committee and a captain was postponed until the April meeting.

Members of the club were urged to go to the grounds Saturday afternoon to assist in the work of clearing up.

Andover Club's Annual Meeting.

On Wednesday evening, the Andover club held its annual meeting and election of officers at its rooms in the Musgrove block, with a large attendance of members. Following the meeting, an excellent collation, arranged by L. A. Belknap, chairman of the house committee, was served by Caterer Rhodes. Then came cards and some "specials" in the cigar line secured for the occasion in Boston.

The result of the election of officers is appended:

President—George H. Poor.
Vice-Pres.—Peter D. Smith.
Treas.—Barnett Rogers.
Clerk—Charles L. White.
Directors—L. A. Belknap, chairman, Arthur Bliss, C. A. Booth, J. Newton Cole, M. F. D'Arcy and Preside, Vice-Pres., Treasurer and Clerk, ex-officio.

HARMONIOUS CONVENTION.

County Officers Elected Without Hitches or Friction.

"Shortest in a generation, not quite such a love feast as that of the Essex County convention, assembled at Salem this morning, has hardly been dreamed of by the most peace-loving politician," said the Boston Journal of Monday evening last. "In 40 minutes by the clock it was all over. All the 'ins' were in again, the old county committee returned to its sphere of usefulness without a break, and the pipe of peace was at the door in the shape of an A 1 'center' for every delegate."

The story of the convention makes a brief tale. Senator Henry C. Atwill of Lynn withdrew as a candidate for district attorney and at the same time placed the name of W. Scott Peters, the present incumbent, in nomination. A proposition to pledge Salem to Lynn for district attorney, three years hence, was met with the protest from Col. Peterson that a good deal might happen in three years, "and as for myself," said the Colonel, "I am for Roland S. Sheridan of Lawrence."

The convention was called to order by Representative Isaac C. Day of Boxford, and the temporary secretary was Charles H. Preston of Danvers. The committee on credentials reported 34 cities and towns entitled to 240 delegates and represented by 220.

Permanent organization was effected as follows:

President, John N. Cole of Andover. Vice-Presidents, Charles O. Bailey of Newbury, Oliver Taylor of Haverhill, William M. Rogers of Methuen, George Reynolds of Peabody, N. N. Jones of Newburyport, John E. Spencer of Salem, Horace H. Atherton, Jr., of Saugus, Moses S. Cole of Marblehead.

Secretary, Charles H. Preston of Danvers.

The Boston Journal of Monday speaking of the convention said:

"On taking the chair President Cole promised the best service of a layman to discharge its duties. Essex County, he said, raised something besides onions, or Hood Jerseys or Gregory seeds; it raised men who have gone out into the world and spread its glory in both hemispheres. Its Peabodys, its Endicotts, its Moodys, Knoxs and Shermans were not alone for the Essex men of the present day were filling their places. They could not fail in doing so, for they never lose sight of their moorings in old Essex."

An infallible sign of approaching fall was the mutterings of the press of the Essex County Convention, because it always led. He emphasized the fact that the first office ever held by President McKinley was given him by a county convention such as this.

By legislative direction in one county of the Commonwealth nominations are now made directly by the people, because it was claimed that it was impossible to secure honest representation by delegate conventions. "I glory in the fact," said the speaker, "that here in old Essex we still choose our delegates and can point with pride to the high character of our candidates."

The following named gentlemen afterwards received the nomination of the delegates and will stand as the party's candidates for reelection: Sheriff, Samuel A. Johnson of Salem; clerk of courts, Edward B. George of Haverhill; district attorney, W. Scott Peters of Haverhill; county commissioner, Wallace Bates of Lynn; special commissioners, William M. Stuart of Lawrence, and Sherman Nelson of Georgetown.

But the Cows Were Hens.

The cows came back, if they hadn't Andover and North Andover could have boasted a real live mystery.

It all began when that well known gentleman of the Scotland district who is erecting a fine residence and establishing an extensive farm there, M. F. D'Arcy, reported to Chief Frye on Sunday morning the supposed loss of six cows from one of his pastures. The bars were found to be down and he thought that the animals had been stolen.

Before the Chief started on his tour of investigation, his telephone rang and on answering it, he found that Officer Fred Sargent of North Andover, was at the other end of the wire. Had one the privilege of listening at the Andover end he would have overheard a conversation something as follows:

"Halloo, halloo."
"Yes, halloo."
"Yes, this is Frye."
"What's that?"
"Sargent? Oh, is that you Fred?"
"Yes, a few. D'Arcy lost six."
"No, haven't had time to do anything yet."

"What's that? No, is that so?"
"Somebody over there in the Farnham district lost 20, and somebody else lost 12? Looks as though somebody was going into it on a wholesale scale, doesn't it?"

"Have you reported to Hammond?"
"All right, I will."
"Yes, I'll do all I can, good-by."
As a result of this information from North Andover, Chief Frye telephoned to Detective Hammond of Haverhill that a wholesale cattle raid had been made on the farmers of the two towns Saturday night, and that 38 cows were missing. He also began an investigation.

It was reported that a broad wheeled and heavy wagon passed a farm house in North Andover near where the animals were supposed to have been taken from early Sunday morning and it was thought possible that they might have been removed by this means.

Late Sunday night, M. F. D'Arcy and Chief Frye drove to Boxford to make an investigation at an out of the way slaughter house there but they had their trouble, and a ducking, for their pains, as they drove back to town in the rain during the early morning hours.

During the day Monday, Mr. D'Arcy was very much astonished and pleased to discover his cows in the pasture once more. Just where they were when he looked for them is a question, but there they were again as calmly browsing as though nothing out of the ordinary had happened.

He notified Chief Frye and the latter investigated the fairy tale from the other parish only to find that the North Andover cows were all hens!

There had been a mutual misunderstanding.

OCTOBER WEDDINGS

Trull - Bailey, Grant - Hall, Farnham - Flint and Fairbanks - Orcutt Nuptials.

With the ushering in of October and its accompanying sympathy of handsome autumn foliage, came the celebration of several weddings of well known young ladies of this place, all of whom married out of town men. Porter street has so far this fall been the most matrimonial of all the streets in town, with two weddings on the same day and the promise of another the latter part of the month.

TRULL-BAILEY.

Wednesday afternoon was one on which sunshine alternated with shadow, but when the lowering clouds and approaching evening made out of doors gloomy the cheerful and pleasant residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Bailey, on Porter street, was brilliantly lighted and all was the more delightful inside. The evening was the one chosen as the wedding night of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey's second daughter, Miss Clara Louise, to Herbert L. Trull, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Trull of Tewksbury.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. W. Pride of Andover, who was assisted by Rev. Charles L. Peirce of Tewksbury, and the time of the wedding was seven o'clock.

The room in which the ceremony took place was decorated with banked palms and hydrangeas, while the mantles were hidden by masses of hemlock and hydrangeas and the staircase was twined with the green boughs and pink flowers. It was essentially a pink wedding.

At seven o'clock the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Maud M. Cole, pealed forth, and the ushers entered the room bearing long white ribbons by which they formed the aisle for the wedding party to advance to the hymeneal altar where the ministers and groom, accompanied by his best man, James Walsh, Jr., of Lowell, awaited.

After the ushers came the little flower girl, Helen Elizabeth Bailey, a sister of the bride. Then came the bridesmaids, Miss Leona F. Fitzgerald of Tewksbury, Miss Carrie Madeline Hewes of Andover, cousins of the bride, and Miss Ethel Coleman of Andover. Next in order was the maid-of-honor, Miss Alma R. Bailey, the bride's sister, and following her, the bride entered, accompanied by her father. The Episcopal service with the ring was used, the bride being given away by her father.

The bride was gowned in a white accordion pleated silk, cut en train, and trimmed with white panne velvet. Her bridal veil was pinned up with a sunburst of pearls, a wedding gift. She carried bride roses.

The maid of honor wore a gown of green silk muslin, trimmed with serpentine lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of white asters. The bridesmaids wore pink silk muslins with serpentine lace trimmings, and carried pink asters.

The ushers were Ralph A. Bailey, brother of the bride, Frederick M. Trull, of Tewksbury, the groom's brother, Harry Flemings of Lowell, and Chester Trull of Tewksbury, cousins of the groom, and Guy Richardson of Pelham. The groom's gift to the ushers were pearl stick pins.

Directly following the ceremony and until half past nine o'clock a reception was held, at which were present many beside the relatives who, alone, were invited to the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Trull were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and groom, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids. Mrs. Trull wore black silk, trimmed with pink chiffon, and Mrs. Bailey's gown was a blue silk with white lace.

The caterer was F. P. Higgins of Andover, who served a very dainty wedding repast. The dining room was decorated in red and green.

Guests were present from Tewksbury, Lowell, Andover, Dover, N. H., New York City, Hampton Falls, N. H., Lynn and Boston.

The bride and groom left on a late evening train en route for Vermont and Canada, where they will spend a brief honeymoon. On their return they will reside on Andover street, North Tewksbury, and will be at home after Dec. 1st.

They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, including silver, china and pictures, from their hosts of friends.

ORCUTT-FAIRBANKS.

The marriage of Miss Sophronia Adeline Orcutt and George Daman Fairbanks took place last Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Fairbanks, Park street, North Reading. Rev. Frank R. Shipman performed the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white muslin, trimmed with lace and ribbon. She wore a veil and had white asters in her hair.

Miss Ethel Fairbanks, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. She was attired in white muslin, trimmed with white ribbon, and wore pink asters in her hair.

Chauncey Williams, a cousin of the groom, was best man.

A reception followed, at which refreshments were served.

The young couple received many beautiful presents. Guests were present from Andover, North Andover and Ballardvale.

Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks, after a short wedding trip, will reside in Andover.

FARNHAM-FLINT.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Flint on Porter street was the scene, Wednesday, of a very pretty home wedding, when their daughter, Charlotte Elizabeth and Arthur Holt Farnham were united in marriage by Rev. G. A. Andrews. Only immediate relatives of the bride and groom witnessed the ceremony, which took place at three o'clock, followed by a reception to which came many relatives and friends from Lynn, Revere, Chelsea, Boston, Andover and North Andover.

Messrs. Harry Foster and Will Ward of North Andover were ushers. Refreshments were served during the reception. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers and autumn leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Farnham received many useful and beautiful gifts. The happy pair left for a short wedding trip in a carriage gaily decorated by the willing hands of their friends, and upon their return will reside at the home of the groom in North Andover.

The marriage of Margaret Knowlton, daughter of Mrs. Alfred H. Hall, to the Rev. John H. Grant, pastor of the Center Congregational church of Meriden, Connecticut, took place Tuesday afternoon, October 1st, at four o'clock, at the home of the bride on Bartlett street. The wedding was a quiet home event, a small company only of the near relatives being present.

The house and veranda were decorated with palms, ferns and flowers. These were effectively massed at the end of the room where the bridal party stood for the marriage ceremony. The officiating clergyman was Professor Egbert C. Smyth, D. D. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Delight W. Hall, as maid of honor, and Mr. Grant by his brother, Louis N. Grant of Goldboro, North Carolina.

The bride was given away by her uncle, Hon. J. M. W. Hall of Cambridge. Mr. and Mrs. Grant are announced to be at home at Meriden, after January 21st.

A Sad Affair.

Mrs. Etta A. Robinson, wife of Holmes B. Robinson, the Essex street confectioner, died at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning from the effect of a bullet wound in her right temple. So far as the police have been able to ascertain the wound was self-inflicted, this being the explanation of Mr. Robinson and there being no evidence to the contrary, as husband and wife were alone at home when the rash act was committed.

Mr. Robinson made a full statement of the matter to the police and there has nothing been learned today to controvert his version of the shooting. He summoned a physician after the shooting, notified the police and after his wife's mother and conducted himself throughout in a manner which the police consider consistent with innocence.

The shooting took place at Mr. Robinson's home, 322 Prospect street, about 9.45 p. m., but Mrs. Robinson lived until morning. She was unconscious, however, so that no statement could be obtained from her.

Mr. Robinson's statement, which was made to the police Monday night, was as follows: "I went to Boston, I returned early in the evening and discovered that my wife had been away from the store some hours during the afternoon. I scolded her and she took offense. I went home shortly afterward and retired at 7.30 o'clock."

"I do not remember how long I was in bed when some one rang the doorbell. I did not get up at once and the bell rang again. I then dressed and went to the door but found no one there."

"The lady up stairs told me that somebody came from Mueller's drug store. I went back to bed."

"My wife returned home at 9.30 o'clock and asked me why I did not answer the telephone at the drug store. I told her that I did not know that I was wanted. I said that if the messenger had waited until I dressed myself and got to the door then I would have answered it. She retorted that the next time she telephoned I would answer."

"I told her that I did not ask her to telephone. I then went and lit my pipe and smoked in the kitchen while my wife went into her bedroom and undressed."

"Some 10 or 15 minutes later she returned attired in her night gown. She came into the kitchen with a pistol in her hand."

"She has asked me how it worked, saying that she was going to shoot herself. Before I could prevent it she placed the muzzle of the pistol to her right temple and fired."

The bullet had entered the temple and Mrs. Robinson fell prostrate on the floor. Mr. Robinson summoned Dr. Eldam and the police. The physician did all in his power to save the woman's life but it was soon evident that death was inevitable.

Mr. Robinson's aged mother was asleep in the house but she heard nothing of the affair, not even the shot, and the neighbors say they heard nothing unusual.

The weapon used was an old-fashioned 22-calibre cartridge pistol which Mr. Robinson had owned many years but which had not been fired for a long time. He had placed it in a drawer and he says he had no idea it was loaded.

The body was removed to the undertaking rooms of John Breen Tuesday morning and an autopsy held by Medical Examiner Howe.

Mrs. Robinson was formerly Miss Etta A. Ragan and entered the employ of Mr. Robinson at his store on Essex street about April 1899, and after a year's employment became the proprietor's wife. The marriage took place at the home of Rev. Mr. Wolcott April 28, 1901.

Mrs. Robinson was born in this city June 21, 1873, and attended the public schools here, being a member of the L. H. S. class of 1892. She leaves a mother, a sister and two brothers.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at the house. Mass will be said, but the body will not be taken into the church. The finding of the autopsy was that in the opinion of the physicians, Mrs. Robinson's death was probably accidental.

A TYPICAL SOUTH AFRICAN STORE.

O. R. Larson of Bay Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railroad station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by all druggists.

to water but you can't make him drink.

You can't make him eat either. You can stuff food into a thin man's stomach but that doesn't make him use it.

Scott's Emulsion can make him use it. How? By making him hungry, of course. Scott's Emulsion makes a thin body hungry all over. Thought a thin body was naturally hungry didn't you? Well it isn't. A thin body is asleep—not working—gone on a strike. It doesn't try to use its food.

Scott's Emulsion wakes it up—puts it to work again making new flesh. That's the way to get fat.

The selectmen are preparing a duplicate copy of the tax list for the year which is to be sent to the state department. This is required every three years and this is the year that it is required. This means that the names and data contained in the large record book must be recopied into a similar book, one to be retained and the other sent to the state. It will require considerable work to prepare the duplicate.

The standing committee of the Primitive Methodist church has adopted a set of resolutions on the death of the late Arthur Bottomley, a former member of the board, and the resolutions have been artistically engrossed on a large paper suitable for framing and will be presented to the widow of the deceased by the board of directors. The inscription which was executed by Professor Cannon, is a fine specimen of work rears as follows:

Saturday evening, a pleasant social was held by the members of the Young People's society of the Primitive Methodist church at the church vestry. Some 50 or more members were present and the most enjoyable evening ever spent together was passed. During the evening local talent rendered pleasing entertainment. The program consisted of the following musical and literary numbers: Selection, "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean," quartet composed of Joseph Bentley, George Nelson, William Hewson and Samuel Adams; reading, Miss Jennie Hamer; duet, "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep," George Nelson and William Hewson; song, Samuel A. Adams; selection, "Larboard Watch," quartet; reading, Rev. W. B. Taylor, D. D.; song, "My Wife's Portrait," George Nelson; reading, Mr. Dyson; song, "Hello, Central," Bertha Wilson. After the entertainment refreshments were served and a social evening passed. Henry Crompton had charge of the music. The entertainment committee comprised Frank Robinson, Alfred Manfield and William Hewson. The social committee was made up of Miss Susan Crossley and Miss Bertha Wilson.

FRANCHISE GRANTED.

After several months of waiting, the selectmen, Saturday afternoon, granted to the Boston and Northern street railway the franchise for a double track between Brown street and Oak and avenue on Broadway. It will be remembered that the Lawrence and Methuen and L. & H. street railway company had some difficulty in arranging for the use of tracks on Broadway between the points mentioned. After a consultation with the selectmen they were advised to arrange the matter between themselves, which they did by agreeing that the L. & H. Co. should lay a double track between these points and the L. & M. cars would run over these tracks, paying mileage. At this point a snag was struck, for at a hearing a number of prominent citizens protested against the granting of such a franchise to the L. & H. without concession on the part of the latter. Since then the L. & H. street railway company has evinced no great desire for the franchise, and it was only a few days since that the matter was brought to a head Saturday the franchise of the L. & M. street railroad for tracks on this portion of the road was revoked and the same franchise granted to the Boston & Northern street railway to the L. & H. railway. The franchise calls for the completion of the double track by Dec. 1, but on account of work on the sewer at this point it is probable that it will be necessary to extend the time. Thus it is probable that the L. & M. road will not be in operation before spring.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS.

A meeting of the school board was held Tuesday afternoon in its rooms in the Tenney building. Plans for reopening the evening schools were discussed, and it was decided to reopen same about the middle of October. This year the schools will be held in the East building, this location being the most central for all parts of the town. The building was at one time piped for gas. Rev. W. B. Taylor has been re-elected principal of the school; the selection of teachers will be made later. The success of last year's school is acknowledged, and with the many improvements which those in charge have in mind the coming session bids fair to excel its predecessor.

At the close of the discussion on evening schools the board elected two new teachers, Miss Mary Francine as regular teacher in the Arlington building, and Miss Mae Shirley as assistant teacher in the West building.

After the approval of monthly bills the meeting was adjourned.

Wedding.

CARNEY-WALLWORK.

October's first and fashionable local wedding was ushered in by a special ceremony in the Congregational church last evening and while the occasion was of decided interest to the relatives and many guests it was of superlative interest to the principals Miss Adeline May Carney, only daughter of L. W. Carney, division superintendent of the Standard Oil company, and Thomas William Wallwork of Winchester and North Andover, eldest son of Chief Engineer David W. Wallwork, of the local fire department.

At the church during the sealing of the guests, Organist Frank D. Foster rendered the Offertory by Wel. y. Saint Sams "Benediction Nuptials," and a Pastoral by Deschayes.

The church clock tolled the hour of half past six when the bridegroom crossed the threshold of the waiting room and with his younger brother, Stanley Wallwork, groomsmen, advanced to the chancel dais and waited the coming of his betrothed. Just a little later the joyful music of the "Bridal Chorus" from Brahms' "The Marriage of Figaro" was heard.

The bride, Miss Adeline May Carney, was escorted by her brother, Stanley Wallwork, and the groom, Thomas William Wallwork, was escorted by his brother, Stanley Wallwork.

The bridegroom was a beautiful and becoming creation of rich white silk and white lace. A pretty veil of silk tulle was draped gracefully over the girl's face and she wore a diamond ring of engagement. Bride roses were favorite blossoms.

The maid of honor Miss Smith wore, with becoming grace, a pretty gown of white muslin over a pink silk, and her bouquet was of pink roses.

The bridesmaid Miss Wallwork wore in an elegant silk muslin over white silk and carrying a large cluster of white pink gave an artistic touch to the wedding picture.

Words which sealed the contract were spoken by Rev. Henry E. Barnes, D. D., and the service was symbolized by an exchange of rings. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The ceremony over, in the reverse order of procession, the wedding party retired from the church to the music of the "Wedding March" of Mendelssohn.

The wedding was tastefully adorned with a crescent of potted palms on the altar, flanked by evergreen and clusters of hydrangeas under the direction of Thornton Brothers.

At the home of the bride's parents on Middlesex street, the lights twinkled in merry greeting to the happy couple and hither between the hours of seven and nine o'clock came flocks of guests with words of congratulation and well wishing for future happiness. The hundred or more guests bidden, were received in the south parlor by Mr. and Mrs. Wallwork, who stood beneath an arch of greenery and within a bower of palms. Cut flowers brightened and adorned the several rooms after the congratulatory messages had been spoken, a well appointed wedding feast was served by Caterer Tanner of Haverhill. At the close of the reception hour the bride withdrew and donning a stylish traveling suit of brown Stockings and their victory over the South Ends of South Lawrence, Saturday afternoon on Tavern hill. The game was interesting and exciting from the kickoff to the touchdown which was scored by Captain Howard Geaney for the "Blues" in the last 25 seconds of play. This touchdown was secured on a double pass from full back to half back a trick which completely fooled the determined South Ends.

The game commenced by the South Ends kicking off to quarterback McGeehan, who easily ran the ball in 20 yards before he was downed. Then commencing at the center of the field the ball was steadily carried toward the South Ends' goal line until it was lost on downs within three yards of the goal line. At this point instead of punting as was expected the South Ends started to rush it, but did not get the ball out of their own territory before the second half.

In the second half the ball continued to remain in the South Ends' territory and it was amidst cheers and general rejoicing that the twisting, surging mass of humanity and dart for the goal line, 15 yards away.

It can be truthfully said that every man on the "Blues" played the game for the best there was in him and with every one of their opponents in the line 15 yards away, there is "all glory to whom glory is due."

Ernest Johnson acted as referee. The halves were both 15 minutes. Score 5-0. The line up: South Ends—Vargus, rg, Huse, lb, Humphrey, rg, Farrell, lb, Fenton, lt, and Manager Vose, rg, Shackleton, c, Blodgett, rg, Fenton, lt, Smyth, qb, Blue Stockings—Greenwood, c, Lambert, rg, Kershaw, rt, Hargreaves, rg, Tracy, lg, Bolton, lt, Smith, lg, McQuestion, qb, Geaney, rg, and captain, Clements, rg and manager, Kelley, lb.

There will be no return game.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

McDONALD, Man, Logan county, W. Va.

THE COMING ASSEMBLY.

Those desirous of having a pleasant time should attend the Cochichewick S. F. E. company's dance to be held in Stevens hall this evening. A concert will be given by the Columbian orchestra from eight o'clock. Dancing will follow with electric car music. This is the first grand assembly of our new engine company and preparations have been made that it will be an eventful one. Remember it is tomorrow night, not far off.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

All housekeepers like to have tablecloths ironed with only one fold after the center. To keep them after this laundering they are best rolled on a stick. Each tablecloth has its own stick, as long as the cloth is wide when folded lengthwise through the center, the sticks being neatly covered with, first, several folds of flannel and then with muslin. When the cloth is ironed in one fold, it is evenly pinned to the stick and the cloth loosely rolled on it, so that it will not crease. Afterward the whole is slipped into a long, narrow bag and held in the linen closet, or in the long drawer of the sideboard if that is kept for that purpose.

FIRST GAME OF SEASON.

It is hardly possible to tell how proud the many supporters of the Blue Stockings are of their victory over the South Ends of South Lawrence, Saturday afternoon on Tavern hill. The game was interesting and exciting from the kickoff to the touchdown which was scored by Captain Howard Geaney for the "Blues" in the last 25 seconds of play. This touchdown was secured on a double pass from full back to half back a trick which completely fooled the determined South Ends.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

Henderson Grimet of this place, was stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—GEO. R. McDONALD, Man, Logan county, W. Va.

Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by all druggists.

This is the first grand assembly of our new engine company and preparations have been made that it will be an eventful one. Remember it is tomorrow night, not far off.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

All housekeepers like to have tablecloths ironed with only one fold after the center. To keep them after this laundering they are best rolled on a stick. Each tablecloth has its own stick, as long as the cloth is wide when folded lengthwise through the center, the sticks being neatly covered with, first, several folds of flannel and then with muslin. When the cloth is ironed in one fold, it is evenly pinned to the stick and the cloth loosely rolled on it, so that it will not crease. Afterward the whole is slipped into a long, narrow bag and held in the linen closet, or in the long drawer of the sideboard if that is kept for that purpose.
